Probate Judge Mills, reports business improving in the matrimonial line, he having issued ten marriage licenses the past week, the judge himself having spliced four pairs of the aspirants for wedded bliss. Mr. Mills does not think that there is a permanent increase along the matrimonial line, but ascribes this sudden spurt to the shortage in the wheat crop in India. W. H. Nation, chairman of the pop central committee thinks Marc Hanna is behind the whole concern in order to influence the fall elections and says you may look for a sudden drop in marriage license records on November third.
